cessions to the M. E. Church. The pastor, Rev. II. C. Sanford, is busy organizing new classes and getting these new members placed under the care of proper leaders.

Moundwille.—The special services in this town are being conducted by Rev. W. C. Wilson. A very general religious awakening has taken place. Up to last welnesday night eighty-eight had united with the church, and on that evening there were about twenty at the altar seeking pardon. An unusually large proportion of the subjects of this revival are persons of mature years and heads of families.

Bellaire Items.—A very heavy gorge of ice is reported in the creek above. Scott's cut. It is feared a good deal of damage may ensue if the creek goes out

The discharges of bone may take place, and the resulting destruction of the hard parts secome quite extensive without the knowledge of the patient, as the little fragments are so enveloped and disguised by the matter which escapes with them that he fails to recognize their character. As a result of these losses a distortion o the organ soon follows. This distortion is generally merely a sinking of the bridge of the nose, and may also become quite extensive before discovery by either the patient or his friends, as it takes place gradually; even a slight inclination o one side will escape attention for some time. But if the ulceration is not checked it progresses until the nose is sunken to level with the cheeks, and features that were once "classical" may assume a hid-courses repulsive to all beholders.
